SCHOOL REPORT.

Most of our schools have been fortunate in having good teachers.

The greater part of the parents and pupils have joined the teacher in an endeavor to have a good school. This must be done if success is to be attained, and where it has been, good schools have resulted—some of them excellent.

There are cases in different parts of the district where scholars were allowed to leave school when they pleased. Parents were called upon and urged to see that their children were in school, but in a few cases all efforts failed to secure attendance. Such indifference on the part of parents, and a dislike to study by their childeen, simply fosters ignorance and all its results.

The three scholars in district number ten should be carried to district number eight.

Several school-houses have been repaired and are now in good condition.

ROBERT FORD,
H. A. CHENEY, } School Board.
